

Fine jewels, exquisite craftsmanship

To define the perfect engagement or wedding ring would be impossible, simply because everyone has a different perception. But at Filigree Fine Jewels, Vanessa and her experienced team can create the perfect piece for you.

Over the past few decades, wedding jewellery has become as modern and sophisticated as the brides themselves. This is no more apparent than at Filigree Fine Jewels.

Vanessa Stowers has been designing fine jewellery for over ten years, and with a dedicated team by her side, she is continuing to design innovative, modern and truly stunning pieces to satisfy every style. All pieces are manufactured onsite by Filigree's team of skilled jewellers, some of whom have over 30 years' experience. Filigree specialises in diamond rings, precious stone rings, wedding bands and occasional jewellery as well as an ever-evolving range of fashion oriented jewellery pieces.

At Filigree, it's the personal and individual service that makes the difference. From the moment you walk through the door, the emphasis is on working with you, helping you choose or create a piece of unique handcrafted jewellery that you will cherish forever.

Filigree's diamond rings stand out from the crowd with their unsurpassed style and individual design features. Choose from a range of traditional diamond cuts like Princess, Emerald and Heart or perhaps a more modern approach fits you like a Carree, Asscher or Trapezoid. There are many to consider, and this is where the team's expertise is unparalleled.

The beauty of working with Filigree is that they cater for a wide range of budgets and needs whilst maintaining diamond quality and ring workmanship. All stones are handpicked by Vanessa who has an eye for detail and a vision for producing exquisite jewellery.

At Filigree, it's not only the bride and groom that they cater for. They design one-off pieces for the entire wedding party, from colour coordinated pieces for the bridesmaids and mother of the bride right through to cufflinks and tiepins for the men. They carry a great range of fashion pieces in store, made from semi-precious and precious materials.

Weddings are a time filled with emotion, a time of tradition, when a proud mother can gift her daughter a family heirloom or a cherished classic. Vanessa can personalise these pieces, rejuvenating and enhancing them for the next generation, and working with such a professional team means this is an affordable and enjoyable option.

It's easy to see the passion Vanessa has for her craft, nothing is too difficult for her, the satisfaction is in the creation and the joy on her customers' faces.

“Embellish yourself with a fashion oriented, unique piece of jewellery, or work with us to create something special of your own,” she encourages.

If you have imagined that perfect piece, or you are looking for expert inspiration, then speak to the team at Filigree their enthusiasm for beautiful things is infectious.
